AS AN EXPRESSION OF OUR APPRECIATION FOR THE GREAT INTEREST SHOWN AND THE MANY ENDEAVORS
MADE IN OUR BEHALF, WE, THE SENIOR CLASS OF 1937, DEDICATE THIS BOOK TO OUR BOARD OF TRUSTEES.

NO-T-R-I-Z-D

BOARD OF TRUSTEES

Our school is a progressive and successful one in which many improvements have been made in the past year. The Board of Trustees has given time and thought to the many changes and we wish to express our deepest appreciation for their excellent cooperation and many contributions during the past year.

MR. OVERACKER

The new Visual Education and Agricultural rooms, a new indirect lighting system, Venetian blinds in most of the front rooms, the enlargement of the machine shop and cafeteria, the purchase of a sound motion picture projector and a public address system, a truck for the Agricultural Department, a new set of traps for the band, 60 trees to be planted, and many lesser items make up the long list of improvements made in the past year.

1. The first part of the document discusses the importance of maintaining accurate records of all transactions, including sales, purchases, and expenses. It emphasizes the need for a systematic approach to record-keeping, such as using a ledger or accounting software, to ensure that all financial data is properly documented and organized.

2. The second part of the document focuses on the importance of regular financial review and analysis. It suggests that business owners should conduct monthly or quarterly reviews of their financial statements to identify trends, assess performance, and make informed decisions about the future of the business.

3. The third part of the document discusses the importance of budgeting and financial planning. It encourages business owners to create a realistic budget for their business and to stick to it as closely as possible. It also suggests that business owners should regularly review their budget and make adjustments as needed to ensure that they are on track to meet their financial goals.

4. The fourth part of the document discusses the importance of understanding and managing cash flow. It explains that cash flow is the lifeblood of any business and that business owners must ensure that they have enough cash on hand to cover their operating expenses and pay their bills. It suggests that business owners should monitor their cash flow closely and take steps to improve it if necessary.

5. The fifth part of the document discusses the importance of seeking professional advice and assistance. It suggests that business owners should consult with accountants, lawyers, and other professionals to ensure that they are following all applicable laws and regulations and that they are making the best possible financial decisions for their business.

ASSOCIATED STUDENTS

The Associated Students can look back with pleasure and pride on the past year which has been conducted successfully by our efficient group of officers.

One hundred per cent student body membership was again the goal of the to determine. The boys won by a tiny margin

Many fine assemblies were presented this year, the Associated Students having worked hard to make them so. Among the best were a lecture on the Oregon Trail by Dr. William Paden, Superintendent of Schools of Alameda County, Alameda, California, presented by L. B. Fay as a Missionary, and a play, "A Woman's Heart," presented by the Exchange Club of San Francisco. The play was presented by Harold M. and Edna G. and the play was presented by Mr. Fay, who took the part. There were also a number of other assemblies, such as the Christmas program by the Girls' League Christmas program, and the class assemblies.

Another two-day session, September 10-11, 1962, at the University of Washington Union High School

STUDENT COUNCIL

The Student Council is composed of all elected officers of the Student Body and a representative from each of the four classes. A meeting is held each Monday to transact any business which concerns the Student Body of this school. At the beginning of each school year the Council adopts a budget and allocates sums for the different departments and organizations.

Outstanding in the achievements of the Student Council this year was the assistance in the purchase of a complete project outfit and a loudspeaker system, as well as other equipment for the benefit of students. As a regular duty, the Council takes charge of purchasing Block "W's" for those earning them in various activities. Also, the uniforms for the cheerleaders and the basketball team were also purchased by the Council.

Two parties are held each year for the students. This year, the first one was held on April fifteenth. The last, on May thirteenth, was a surprise party celebrating President Robert Solon's birthday and welcoming next year's newly elected officers.

This is the sixth year in which the Council has guided the affairs of the Student Body.

THE SENIOR CLASS

Finishing its last and most successful year at W. U. H. S., the class of '37 held its Commencement on June 3, preceded by the usual Senior Week activities: the Breakfast, the Assembly, and the Senior play, "Paddy."

After the completion of the Senior Week activities, a special committee of officers, was formed to assist in determining class activities. There were three Senior Week activities: the Assembly, the Breakfast, and the Senior play. All of these activities were shrouded in secrecy.

In extra-curricular activities, the class was well represented. The members of the class took part in a number of activities, and many of the students were active in the various organizations.

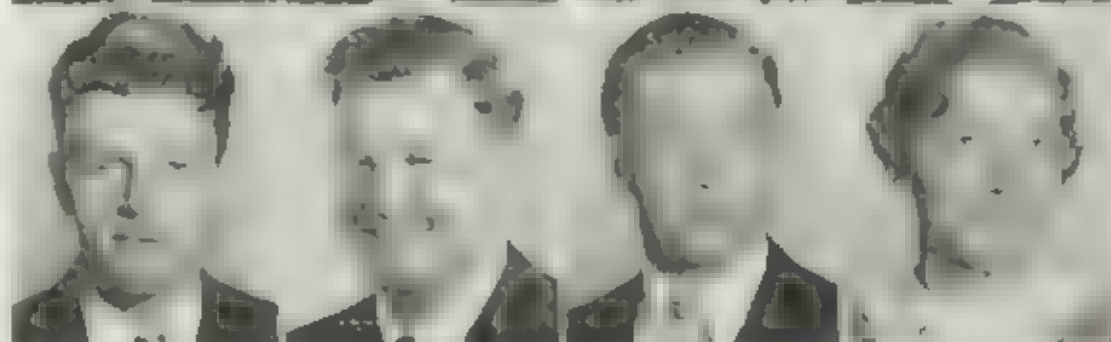

One of the most important activities of the graduating class was the sponsorship of the annual assembly on May Day program which is held for the purpose of reporting the health state of the pupils with the school that they will enter in the fall.

One of the first girls in many years to hold the office of senior president was Margaret Wells, who successfully guided the entire class through its final year. The class was well represented in the various organizations. The members of the class were: Mr. Kibby, Miss DuCoty, Miss Wilson, and Mr. Mente.

HAIL TO OLD WASHINGTON

Here we come with a toast and song
To the school that we love so well.
We love its spacious halls and grounds,
Its mem'ries make us thrill;
But our fondest thoughts when years have run
Will be of teams and vict'ries won!
Each man a loyal son! Hail to old Washington!

Chorus:

Washington Union High our hats are off to you!
Clean, fair players, fighters through and through;
We'll cheer for every man, we'll root for every stand
That's made for Washington! (Yell) Rah! Rah! Rah!
Watch our team go tearing down the field!
Men of iron whose strength will never yield.
Hail! Hail! Hail! Hail!
Hail to old Washington!

The Junior Class of the past year has been active in many fields. Juniors have held their own in dramatics, journalism, sports, and scholastic affairs.

Last fall the class members' dramatic ability was shown in the Student Body play, "Babs," many members of the class being of the third year rank. In the Varsity play, "The Trysting Place," the Juniors also took part. For their Assembly Program the Juniors chose a play, "The Trysting Place" which was presented by members of the Junior English Club.

The staff of the Hatchet, school bi-weekly news publication, included a large number of Juniors. The staff also included a business manager.

The Juniors were also active in many school activities, with a number of them taking part in the school sports.

They also took part in many athletic activities, the class being well represented in all sports, particularly in tennis and basketball.

One of the high spots of the year was the Junior-Senior Prom given by the

GIRLS' LEAGUE

The Ideal Young Woman is the goal toward which the Girls' League Organization is working, through the activities carried on among the girls of Washington.

At the beginning of each school term there is a Freshman Reception at which each new girl is given a "big sister" under whose charge she gets acquainted with the school. A program is held in the afternoon, refreshments are served and the remaining time is spent in dancing.

Each year girls prepare a play for which they are given by Mrs. Smith, their adviser, a gift which they present with their friends to show their appreciation of her advice and guidance.

Other activities include work with the Red Cross and the Y, in the varsity and Junior League work, and the annual Christmas Assembly, a mission to which was a toy to be given to the Boy Scouts for distribution to children in the community.

Katherine Rathbone and Maria Ziegler were delegates to the annual Girls' League Federation Convention held in Hayward.

The League officers are Katherine Rathbone, President; Isola Moise, Vice-President; Helen McNeely, Secretary; Maria Rose, Treasurer; Nancy Tucker Yell, Editor; Elizabeth Smith, Publicity; Nancy Jane Williams, Ways and Means; and Margaret Morse, Hospitality.

Not to be "genious" is a well-known phrase used throughout our four years in this school. The class of '37 has tried to carry out the motto of the school, "To be a good person, to be a good citizen," to the rule, when this book was being published.

After careful deliberation, the staff was chosen. The staff, consisting of Margaret Wells, Katherine West and Grayce Ura, have had no little experience in the management of school affairs. Margaret Wells and Katherine West were just as experienced in serving as business managers.

Others chosen for their knowledge in their particular fields were Yoshio Tomimatsu and Takeo Hirabayashi as sports editors; Isola Moise, girls' sports administration; Katherine Roth, drama; Tom Mitsuyoshi and John Accenilt, drama; Margaret Wells, poetry; Isola Moise, takes; George West; typist, Beatrice Brown.

In the commercial plant garden at the school, plots of 34 pea varieties and 26 cover crops were planted for study. Corn trials were continued as student projects, emphasizing especially the Golden Cross strain. The P. G. & E. co-operated with a few members working with early crop tomatoes as an experiment. The classes also planted walnut trees and flowering peach trees around the campus.

The work of the Future Farmers was greatly improved by the fine new classroom, the reorganized farm shop, and the new pick-up truck for which the members are grateful to the Board of Trustees.

The officers for the past year were: President, Martin Duarte; Vice-President, Paul Rivers; Secretary, Melvin Luna; Treasurer, George J. Silva; Reporter, Billy Foster; Sports Manager, Joe Kato; Adviser, Mr. Dougherty.

INKLING

"Inkling" is the name of a literary magazine published annually by the members of the Writer's Club. Any student wishing to try his hand at creative writing, whether it be the production of short plays, short stories, poems, or descriptive composition is invited to join. There are no dues or regulations governing membership; the only qualification being the interest of the member in creative writing. This club is a continuation of the Penguin Club which was organized with the intention of publishing a literary magazine. The first volume of the "Inkling" was published during the first part of May after a successful sales campaign conducted by the business manager.

This year it was given in the afternoon instead so that the whole student body friends were invited to share in this Christmas program.

The hall was beautifully decorated with wreaths and garlands of Christmas air of reverent serenity to the occasion.

The decorations were arranged by the Freshman Class, who brought the greens, made the wreaths and garlands, and hung them the previous day.

In a spectacular climax in the last scene, the chorus, attired in white surplices, stood on a raised platform with a gauze curtain before them, singing beautiful Christmas music while the shepherds and Wise Men came to worship at Bethlehem.

COACHES' PAGE

Seniors: You are about to leave Washington to take up your duties and responsibilities elsewhere. While you were here we gave you as many opportunities as possible to participate in the games of your choice. We felt that these sports, when tackled intelligently and run on the right lines had splendid effects. They toughened you so you didn't mind the little bumps and bruises. They developed many qualities in you such as courage, control of your temper and ability to come through in a pinch. We have tried to teach you sportsmanship, good fellowship, and fair play. These lessons we feel sure have brought you results in athletics. Now we trust you will find that they bring results in the game of life as well. Good Luck!—Alvin Morse.

MR MORSE
MR TAYLOR

This is a pep talk, Seniors. Life can be well compared to the game of football. Sometimes you ride the crest of a wave, sometimes you are deep in a trough.

Remember, too, the saying "In the final judgment it isn't whether you win or lose but how you play the game." We wish you the best of luck in all your future endeavors. You are graduates of Washington Union High School. You are graduating, yet you are not leaving completely, for we will have the high standards you have set for us, and we cherish these treasures.

MAXINE DU COTY

Our wish for you is that you carry with you the fine spirit of sportsmanship and cooperative living you have shown us—that you play fair, clean, and hard in life as you have done in your school sports.

Congratulations to you, Girls,—may your future hold much that is rich and fine.—Maxine Du Coty.

This past season the "C's" added new honors, winning four out of five games losing only to a non-league team.

To coaches Matson and Morse should go much credit for guiding the young Huskers through another successful season.

With practically all the men returning, prospects for another championship are bright.

TENNIS

This year the boys' tennis team with Mr. Webb as coach entered its third year of interscholastic competition. The student manager, Donald Ahrens, arranged a schedule by which the tennis team had tournaments with many teams, including Livermore, Pleasanton, Hayward, Bellermino, Santa Clara, Albany, and Redwood City.

The first three places were held by Donald Ahrens, James Emerson, and Robert Zwilling. The fourth place was held by Tom Whipple. The rest of the boys alternated in playing second doubles.

The team won the first match of the season against Albany, which was won by the boys, and gave them a good start for other matches to be played.

Because of the difficulty in securing a coach, the B team started its season successful season was brought to a close.

As is the custom, competition with the elementary schools of the Township formed the backbone of the B's schedule. In addition, however, negotiations were started with nearby high schools in order to obtain competition.

After a year's absence from the position, Mr. Mette again became coach of the football team. He was successful in his work, and the team won the championship. He was also successful in his work as a teacher, and his students were successful in their studies.

GIRLS' SPORTS

During the winter months, the girls' basketball season was under way. The girls' basketball team, which won the championship of the county, played a number of games during the season. The girls' basketball season was unusually stiff between rival periods, resulted in a number of close scores.

A number of girls' basketball games were played during the first quarter of the school year. Through an elimination contest the girls' basketball team won the championship of the county. The girls' basketball team won the championship of the county by a score of 10-0.

Immediately following, the girls' basketball season was under way. In almost every game played the teams which won did so by "hairbreadth" margins of five or fewer points. The second period basketball team was out to win the championship of the county. The girls' basketball team won the championship of the county by a score of 10-0. and fine guarding, the girls played well and hard.

With the onset of better weather, volleyball was enjoyed on the tennis courts with the girls' tennis squad. Tournaments to determine the most superior racquet wielder among girls of this school did not get under way until mid-spring. The battle for top honors culminated in a three-way tie with the Harrold sisters and Margaret Shimizu repeatedly trading places. Following closely were Olga and Margaret Harrold. The girls' tennis squad won the championship of the county by a score of 10-0. interested in this sport. Games were played within classes to determine the singles, doubles, and substitute players for the teams.

Tennis was one of the most exciting games played on the girls' Play Day, held April 24, on our grounds. Girls from high schools of Southern Alameda County played this sport with our girls.

Miss Du Coty, the girls' athletic coach, is to be remembered for her coaching and guidance, while the girls' athletic manager, Florence Freitas, deserves much credit for the success of our girls' Athletic Program.

JOKES

English Teacher: Have you ever read, "To a Field Mouse"?

Student: No! How do you get them to listen?

Mr. Goold: Why are you late for school, Sunol?

The Wests: We started late.

Mr. Gould: Why didn't you start early?

Wests: Because it was too late to start early.

To do it, first, you have to know what you're doing, and try hard enough.

What is the mark of the cross? Have you ever tried to get a toothpick back into the tube?

Druggist: Do you mean aspirin?

Chem. Student: That's right! I can never think of that name.

"What are you writing?"

"A joke."

"Well, give her my regards."

Teacher: Why didn't you comb your hair after P. E.?

and I must have combed some other guy's hair.

Student: "What is the date, please?"

Professor: "Never mind the date. The examination is more important."

Student: "Well, sir, I wanted to have something right on my paper."
